

Historical relationship suggests President Trump needs an approval rating of at least 53% to keep majority in the House of Representatives

Source: The American Presidency Project data since 1960, Gallup, DB Global Markets Research